Questions from Councillors

1 Councillor Tony Edwards to Councillor Mark Ingall (Leader of the Council):

Approximately three years ago the Council had a debate about the appalling state of Harlow's roads. During the debate there was a presentation of the hundreds and hundreds of Potholes listed by Essex Highways. If you look today on the Essex Highways site, you will still see hundreds and hundreds of reported potholes in Harlow. Could you please tell us how the Harlow Council has sought to raise this matter with the County Council and of their response to date?

Reply from Councillor Mark Ingall (Leader of the Council):

Councillor Edwards is correct in saying this Council debated the inadequate maintenance of our roads three years ago. In fact more than four years ago, in my maiden speech in this chamber I also brought up this matter. The appalling backlog of maintenance has been an issue that has been at the forefront of residents and councillors minds for a considerable time.

I know that many Councillors and residents have reported concerns through the Essex Highways portal, only to get messaged back that the pothole has been previously reported and no action is planned. As Leader of the Council I wrote to the Conservative Portfolio Holder for Highways and initiated a meeting with him. At that meeting I secured a promise that our estate roads would begin to be targeted for improvements. But walking, driving or cycling around our town shows too clearly that the promise has not been met.

Conservative controlled Essex County Council has failed Harlow when it comes to the maintenance of our roads pavements and cycle tracks. Harlow's Conservative County Councillors have been silent on the issue for three and a half years, only surfacing to claim credit for a few repairs in the months before they are due to stand for election. One even famously claimed on social media a couple of years ago that there were no potholes in his division of Harlow, showing how out of touch he was with the residents he was meant to serve.

2 Councillor Simon Carter to Councillor Mark Ingall (Leader of the Council):

In your answer to Question 5 at the last Council meeting you said Terminus House provided only 40 properties qualifying for New Homes Bonus and a net payment of £34,800. Can you show your workings please?

Reply from Councillor Mark Ingall (Leader of the Council):

The Government publishes New Homes Bonus Calculator on its website at <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/new-homes-bonus-calculator-2021-to-2022>. The calculation is quite detailed and for the purposes of a reply to the question asked by Councillor Carter so I am happy to arrange for a copy of the calculations to be sent to him.

It is important to remember that the calculations used in determining New Homes Bonus payments, as set out in the original reply in January are not normally calculated on a per property basis but on the overall growth in property numbers from one year to the next. Therefore the calculation, whilst following the methodology has had to make specific assumptions in order to calculate the estimated NHB value.

3 Councillor Michael Hardware to Councillor Mark Wilkinson (Portfolio Holder for Housing):

On what basis or under what legislation the council is writing to the 2,500 owners of leasehold properties in Harlow, where the council owns the freehold, seeking copies of gas and electricity safety certificates? There have been numerous mentions of this on social media, direct complaints to councillors and, I understand, complaints to the council.

Reply from Councillor Mark Wilkinson (Portfolio Holder for Housing):

The statutory basis for requesting this information is detailed in relevant "Fire Safety Orders" which require us as a landlord /owner of freehold property to continuously assess the risk factors/ hazards which may affect fire safety in its properties. Risk assessments are regularly reviewed and prioritised as part of this requirement with the letter recently sent, a reminder for all leaseholders and those who sublet homes of their lease /safety responsibilities. There is a lease requirement to maintain their property in a safe manner, and risk assessments update our approaches. Importantly, this will provide added security to other residents in the block as well as proof that these potential lifesaving inspections have been carried out.

So far there has been a positive response with the majority of this information readily available. However, the Council recognises that for some this may prove difficult in arranging and being in a position for producing certificates and that some leaseholders will need longer to arrange inspections. Support and further information is being provided to leaseholders who have contacted us about this issue.

4 Councillor Andrew Johnson to Councillor Mike Danvers (Portfolio Holder for Resources):

Government figures show the Council received £1.74 million in December under the Additional Restrictions Grant Scheme to support local businesses who fell outside the definition of the other Government grant schemes. At the time of the Council's last report to Essex County Council, how much of this grant funding had been dispersed to local businesses?

Reply from Councillor Mike Danvers (Portfolio Holder for Resources):

The last reporting to ECC was based upon data at 14 March 2021 and showed that Harlow had paid out 290 payments totalling £749,760 in respect of the Additional Restrictions Grant. Against the original allocation of £1.74 million this represented 43% of the allocation having been spent.

I would also like to publicly put the record straight regarding this Council's performance in making ARG payments to local businesses. Despite the misleading information that has been published by the Harlow Conservatives and based on the data provided to ECC, Harlow was far from the worst performer in Essex. Several neighbouring authorities have paid out less and in some cases far less of their grant allocations than Harlow Council with Conservative controlled Epping Forest having only paid out 13% of their total ARG allocation.

In order to provide a response to the question which reflects the most up to date information I can also inform Councillor Johnson that as at 30 March 2021, a little over two weeks since the data was supplied to ECC, Harlow Council has now paid 564 payments totalling £1,115,840.60. This represents over 64% of the original ARG funding and nearly 45% of the total ARG including the January top up payment.

ARG funding, as announced by the government is to be utilised throughout 2021/22 to also help business recover from the crisis and this Council is now focussed on designing new options for ARG to support those local business that will again fall through the gaps in the Governments Restart Programme in order to support all local businesses recover and be successful as the local economy emerges from this crisis.

I would also point out in responding to Councillor Johnson that it has been reported that nationally 3 million business have fallen through the cracks in the Government's Covid support programmes.

5 Councillor Andrew Johnson to Councillor Mike Danvers (Portfolio Holder for Resources):

At the time of the Council's last report to Essex County Council, how much of the Business Adaptation grant funding provided by the Government to Harlow had been dispersed to local business?

Reply from Councillor Mike Danvers (Portfolio Holder for Resources):

As with my previous response, the data supplied to ECC was based on information as at 14 March and at that time the Council had paid out 6 payments totalling £7,500 in respect of Business Adaptation Grants. Again for completeness I am now able to inform Councillor Johnson that as at 30 March this has increased to 12 payments totalling £14,000. Furthermore there are 12 recent applications being verified or where further information is required and one new application received yesterday. If all of these new or recent applications are successful this could lead to up to a further £19,500 being paid to local businesses giving a total grants paid figure of up to £33,500.

The Council will still have funding available to allocate to businesses and I would encourage any local business that meets the criteria contained within the grant policy agreed by Essex County Council and available on Harlow Council's website to submit an application as soon as they can to help prepare their business for the further easing of Covid restrictions as set out by the Governments Roadmap.
